

Learning Dialogue Window November

Dear Parent/Carer

As you will be aware from recent communication regarding Show My Homework, we are keen to maximise Parent and Carer involvement in the setting and completion of quality homework at Mark Hall Academy.

You now have individual Parent and Carer log-in details for Show My Homework and I hope that you have found this service beneficial in supporting your child with their homework and keeping them on track. It is vital that there is a partnership across Parents, Carers, staff and students to ensure that we are putting students' learning first and that they are applying themselves outside of the classroom and developing as independent learners.

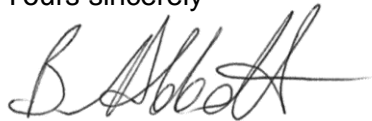

To further develop this dialogue between Parents, Carer and the Academy, we are continuing with a 'Learning Dialogue Window', where Parents and Carers are actively encouraged to check their child's work within their books. This is a direct result of feedback from, and partnership working with, our Parent Council.

This is an opportunity for you to celebrate in their success and achievements but to also ensure your child is producing the best quality work they can and taking a pride in the presentation of their work.

In order for you to support this, every student has a dedicated 'Learning Dialogue Week' page in their student planner on page 6. This asks you to sign and date the relevant column to acknowledge you have seen your child's work in all subjects that the book goes home in. It allows for you to comment on the progress of your child's work in that subject. During the month of November every single workbook will come home and should be returned immediately for use in class.

If you have any further questions regarding this process or any matters regarding homework and the setting of homework via the Show My Homework calendar, please do not hesitate to get in contact with the Academy.

Yours sincerely
